Water supply concerns council

Despite what sometimes by pipelining, as beavers seems like endless rain often re-dam the creek on a showers, water is the number one concern with Elk Point Town Council at this time. The origin and method of pumping of water to replenish water levels in the Town reservoir was carefully considered at Monday's regular Council meeting.

Personnel of Alberta Environment visited Elk Point August 16 to evaluate the situation, but told the Town that their request to bring water from the North Saskatchewan River would be subject to a lengthy process to obtain permission, and that pumping water from the river would not be eligible under the Water Supply Assistance Grant Program.

Neither did Alberta Environment agree to the Town's second request: that water be brought from Hook Lake by pipeline rather than running it down the Atimoswe Creek bed. Using the natural water-course involves removing beaver dams and flushing the creekbed with sufficient lake water to remove traces of the stagnant water which has been dammed up. The lake is 3 miles from Elk Point, 1.25 miles further than the distance to the river.

Council felt that considerable manpower would be saved

Quality of the water reaching Elk Point homes was also discussed, and a program of water main flushing to remove precipitates was agreed to.

One of the suggested pressure pump systems to increase water pressure in an area where low pressure has been a long standing problem,

Chamber starts September 6

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce will hold their first meeting after a 2 month summer recess next Wednesday, September 6. The meeting will be held at the Empress Family Restaurant at 12:00 noon, and all business people and other interested individuals are invited to attend and help the Chamber plan their fall and winter projects.

was installed Monday, Council was told. The unit was installed on a 30 day trial basis, to see if this will alleviate the problem. Completely finished basements have led other homeowners to reject installation of the systems, at least until they are sure that it would make a worthwhile difference. These homeowners will be advised of the results of the experimental installation.

Concern with drainage which could be impeded by the installation of sidewalk overlay at the south side of the Co-op store was voiced, with the Co-op to be contacted before this work is done. Other sidewalk overlays at the west of the store, on 48 Avenue and from Millie's Flowers to PRAG Plumbing on 50th Avenue have been completed.

Another drainage concern is a seasonal problem at Tags Food and Gas, which the owner feels could result from the storm sewer heaving due to frost. Council decided that the best way to determine if this is the reason water sits on a portion of the parking lot during spring thaw, and does not during significant summer rainfall, is to take elevations of the storm sewer and the problem spot now and

Construction continues but school set to start

For the second consecutive year, Elk Point Elementary School will open its doors with the sound of hammers and saws accompanying the peal of the school bell.

Unlike last year, however, the classrooms in the south wing are cleaned up and ready to accept students, and all school operations will be housed under one roof, which to Principal Don Conrad seems a great improvement: 'Last year, we had everyone all over, in the FCSS Building and the High School--this is much better.'

Construction of the gymnasium addition and two portable classrooms is over a month from completion, Conrad says, and while the stucco which gives the exterior of the building a totally new look is finished, installation of some of the white metal siding which tops it off has been delayed due to inclement weather.

Even then, construction may not become a thing of the past around Elk Point Elementary. Applications for an addition housing four classrooms, a new library and an office suite have been submitted to the Provincial Government, and 'we're still hoping for approval,' Conrad says. If the addition is approved, work could start on it as early as January 1990.

Growing enrollment in the lower grades, due to increased numbers of younger families in the area, means 'we really do need the space' the proposed addition would provide, Conrad noted. Statistics received from the Health Unit indicate that the trend will continue. Conrad estimates 60 students in each of Grade 1 and 2 this year, while some of the higher elementary grades have less than two thirds of that number.

School starts in Elk Point, and throughout the County of St. Paul, next Tuesday, September 5.

Historical Society looks ahead as well as back

By Irene Magnusson

From a list of two dozen members, only nine attended the first fall meeting of the Elk Point and District Historical Society on Wed., August 23rd, held in the Library. Reports were heard of the Society's part in the Canada Day celebrations, which this year featured a display of artifacts and information on the work being done at the archaeological digs at the Fort George - Buckingham House trading post sites.

A display by one of the archaeologists, on how the early Natives might have created arrowheads from obsidian, was interesting, and the Canada Map, with emphasis on Alberta, was well decorated with names, as usual. This map may be seen in the Toronto-Dominion Bank for a time.

The Society has been urged to take an active part in the planning of the celebrations coming up of the bi-centennial observance of when the two Forts were established, in 1792, along the North Saskatchewan River's banks, near Elk Point. Other thoughts of the historic past were shown in the Society's new pin, which was displayed, having an outline of the Forts on it. Mike O'Neill, who designed the three pins offered by the group this year, has added a T-shirt to the collection, as well, depicting the Forts.

An Information Night, planned for Elk Point for September 21st, will offer an opportunity for display and distribution of brochures, pins, etc., which may be of interest to the public, regarding the summer's work at the Forts Site.

Looking back to the past, the members discussed the whereabouts of various objects of historical note, especially printed matter, now stored in the Barowsky's home, and referred to as the Archives, with a suggestion that they would be more central if located in the Library. The memory of the Grand Opening of the first Elk Point bridge, back in 1950, came forward, as plans were made to consolidate materials extant into a Video tape, O'Neill offering to look into this possibility.

The work at the Site is now done, for this year, but plans proceed toward the future, when the area may be opened to the public, sure to draw visitors from afar, when tourists will include a stop at the Site as part of their experience of the many attractions of Northeast Alberta. Already, the Site has been used as the kick-off point for a Heritage Day Wagon Train rally, and more will follow, the members agreed.

Thoughts were given to the future use of the Mural Park, with hopes of some work being done there in the not-too-distant future. Sheila Thompson is working with Town personnel, toward future development and greater use of the park. Already the large mural paintings of the historic march of time through the Elk Point area is becoming a familiar sight to visitors, as it is to residents of the area. The Society sees a time when no visit to Northeastern Alberta will be complete without a view of it, and the sooner the surrounding park is made as attractive as it can be, the more enjoyment of that view will be indulged.

Society members look forward to the next meeting, September 27th, when plans for the future will hopefully continue to take shape, and the continuing history of our spot on the map will be added to by their actions and thoughts.

Operations of the FCSS Department were also reviewed. Both the FCSS Secretary and Playschool Teacher will soon be on maternity leave, and applications to fill these positions on a temporary basis have been received and reviewed. Council approved offering the positions to Daphne Schnurer and Charlene Nixon, respectively, for the 4 month period.

Terms of reference for Satellite Day Homes were reviewed, following their amendment with input from the FCSS Board and a FCSS consultant. A need for secretarial skills was added to the job description, mileage payment and salary were separated, and fee collection and payment of providers was deleted from the list of duties, as this is now done by the Town Office. An incentive program, with a monthly base salary of $200 for a minimum of 4 hours per week, plus $20 per active home provider, was introduced and accepted. The incentive would also carry into the mileage paid, with $5 per home per month, to a maximum of $50. Only two Satellite Day Homes are active at the present time, but there is a waiting list of clients. Elk Point has had as many as 7 homes going at one time. Council also agreed to advertise for a coordinator, using the new terms of reference.

Council was told that Parent Nursery is now setting up a separate room for their use, in the former Further Education classroom, rather than sharing the Playschool space. Approval was given to funding from the FCSS budget for start up expenses such as the purchase of furnishings and toys.

ACA fall conference

An incredible summer

By Daphne Schnurer and Tina Bjorkman

The saying "time flies when you're having fun" certainly applies to this year's summer reading program. It seems like we just got started with our school dinosaur visit and here we are winding up this year's program. Our sneaky dinosaur also appeared in the July 1st Canada Day parade.

The preschool and elementary final parties, on August 22 and 25 respectively, were well attended and a huge success. Both groups enjoyed stories, action songs and dances, and favorite games. While the older kids participated in a treasure hunt, the preschoolers had a sticky time decorating cookies. The kids wound up their morning with a snack and trying their luck at breaking the dinosaur pinatas. They also received bookasaurus bags and certificates. Even though the weather did not cooperate, a good time was had by all.

Our coloring contest winners were as follows

ELEMENTARY - 1st prize - Jennifer Flanders, 2nd prize - Kelly Petersen, 3rd prize - Aaron Young.

PRESCHOOL - 1st prize - Sheena Seraniak, 2nd prize - Meghan O'Neill, 3rd prize - Jamie Reed.

Congratulations! Everyone who participated did a super job. A special thank you goes out to Billie Milholland who was kind enough to judge our coloring contest.

Fifty-six elementary children and 37 preschoolers were registered in the summer reading program this year. The library averaged 25 elementary kids and 20 preschoolers each week.

Once again, the kids enjoyed the monoporead board game. This year we had a record breaking 73 participants, almost doubling last year's number. This game was not only challenging but encouraged the children to keep up their reading skills throughout the summer.

The Thursday matinee drew an average of 28 children to the library each week. This summer's favorite movie was "The Muppets Take Manhattan". Thirty-five kids roared with laughter at the crazy antics of those lovable muppets.

This year's added attraction was a visit from Frank Pavlick, sports poet and piano man, on August 2. Fifty people, ranging from preschoolers to seniors, attended his presentation.

We had a really great time this year and we encourage the children who participated and their parents to continue coming this fall and throughout the winter.

We would like to take time to thank the many people who made this year's summer reading program so successful. Thanks to all the kids who made our summer so enjoyable and to the parents for their help. We would also like to thank Leanne Drobot, Tina Stafford, and Tracy Boothman from the Fun in the Sun program for their help and cooperation. We appreciate it! Thank you to all the businesses and individuals who helped support the summer reading program. The encouragement from the library board and staff was also greatly appreciated. The roses were lovely. Thank you.

Reading Program Windup ...

Breaking open a dinosaur pinata (above) and decorating cookies (below) were only part of the fun enjoyed by preschoolers at the Elk Point Library's Summer Reading Program Wind-Up last Friday.

Editorial

Back to school safety

As youngsters throughout the area head back to school for another year, we must all remember to do our part to keep them safe on their way to and from school.

This means being extra alert, and watching out for children who forget their safety knowledge in the excitement of seeing old friends again, even to the extent of darting out between parked vehicles. It means observing school zone speed limits, and stopping for school buses with flashing warning lights. It means not driving your youngsters to school if it is not necessary, as this increases traffic congestion, and if you must, not parking in the zones where this is prohibited.

And parents, when you outfit your children for their trip back to the halls of learning, please make sure that one thing they take along is a knowledge of traffic safety, whether they are kindergarteners walking to school for the first time, or teenagers driving their own vehicles to high school.

Take care!

Your turn to be heard

One favorite sport of the average Canadian is to discuss the multiple shortcomings of the various levels of government. It's so easy, as an observer, to say what is wrong with the way they're running the country, the province, the county or the town, and to speculate on how much better it could be done if the reins of government, council, school or hospital board were in our own hands.

Well, everyone--here's our chance!

Municipal general elections are coming up in October, and nomination days for both county and town are coming up soon. If we want to have our turn at deciding the fate of our municipality, school or hospital, now is the time!

As long as we are at least 18 years old, Canadian citizens, residents of the municipality in which we wish to run for at least 6 months, do not have an undischarged bankruptcy, are not the auditor, officer or employee of that municipality, or owe more than $50 in property tax arrears, or owe any debt to the municipality of $500 or more that is more than 90 days in default, we are eligible to throw our hats into the ring. That doesn't thin out too many of us, does it?

So, what is involved with the positions, should we win?

Well, if it's Town Council, for example, there's a Council meeting every other Monday night, plus meetings for whichever committees you are appointed to. The mayor or deputy mayor, or sometimes one of the councillors, often is asked to appear at various functions as a representative of the Town. To learn about the various issues which come before Council requires reading of background information on a regular basis. It would also help to have a good listening ear, to deal with the concerns of ratepayers.

A good way to find out about the job, on a Town basis, is to attend the regular Council meetings, or to talk to the present council members. Another way, applicable to all municipal offices, is to attend one of the 'Orientation for Candidates for Municipal Office' seminars being held in various areas of the province, sponsored by the University of Alberta. The seminar closest to our area is in Vermilion on September 7, with more information and registration forms available at the Town Office, County Office and at the library.

Well...how about it?

Shallow Falls

We are tempted to walk close to the Bridge, out along the Ingraham Trail, east of shallow falls, above the Cameron River Yellowknife.

Alberta Trails - Part 3

Yellowknife and beyond

By Irene Magnusson

The rock mounds increased, as we neared Yellowknife, and we stopped to explore one. This one was about ten feet above the road, and we scaled it easily (these wonderful sneakers--no more slipping!) and dodged the broken glass on top. Trees and shrubs grow up through the cracks, with deergrass creeping about here and there. We studied the 'gold' flecks gleaming in spots, and the rich marbled colors where breaks had occurred. At the edge I noticed a hole, partly covered by tree roots, and could hear and see water gurgling down about two feet.

On to Yellowknife, in the gold mine country of the NWT. Our first indications were the tops of the mine buildings, and the edges of huge pits. From these pits, we were told later, gold is mined, and the ore processed in the tall buildings--or in some fashion condensed for shipment to refineries elsewhere.

Hanging over the tall trees at the side of the highway, is an airplane, suspended in flight on a giant arm. I'm sure someone pointed out the significance of this relic, but I seem to have missed it.

Signs pointing to the airport, to the large park situated on Long Lake, and to the city centre, were arranged along the road. It wasn't long, as we swept on between the cutbanks and soon-tall buildings, before we knew we were in a much-more-than-town. After a few sweeps around the streets, we found a cafe that was open, with a parking place beside a meter, which we fed, not yet aware that this was not necessary on holidays and after six p.m.. By then it was about 9:30, of a Saturday night.

We were served tasty hamburgers at Pappa's Chinese restaurant, then went out to drive around, looking for a motel room and inspecting the city. We found 'No Vacancy' signs on four or five places before we secured rooms at the Discovery Inn. It had been a long day.

Mel and I breakfasted in the Apple Dining Room, Mel going for the waffles, while I reverted to my usual cereal and toast. Aline came in for coffee, and we discussed our plans for the day. Packed up and paid up, we got in the van and headed for some sight-seeing around the city.

Leaving the Discovery Inn, we drove south on Franklin Avenue, toward the lake. This area is called Old Town, and no doubt houses more natives than the northern part, called New Town. There is a projection of land, surrounded by the waters of the Great Slave, well covered with buildings, all curiously formed to fit the bulging rocks, or to dodge between them. Along the shores on either side were anchored numerous boats and even more numerous light aircraft. Off to the west loomed an island, mainly uninhabited, where many dogs are over-summered. My map calls it Jolliffe Island, and we could see houseboats anchored in its lee.

We crossed over a barely discernible bridge, onto another part of Old Town, Latham Island. In the bright sun, it was a colorful area: brightly painted houses, lovely flowers around some of them, shaded by trees. We followed the main streets, then back toward the bridge. In another circle, we passed by the famous Wildcat Cafe, a small log building, low-roofed and unpainted, still in use as a cafe, certainly a tourist attraction, and the subject of many photos and paintings.

Back to the center of town, we found the Mackenzie Highway, and onto the Ingraham Trail, for a day of exploration. I am always wide-eyed and excited when I go on a new road, see new country. This was no exception.

A wide smooth paved road, curving broadly between miles of forest, with occasional small lakes or sloughs of dazzling blue, and ever the pink of fireweeds putting a blush on the open spaces. Large rock outcroppings bulged periodically, many decorated with the little stone figures.

We came to a sign proclaiming 'Prelude Lake,' which sounded inviting, so we followed the trail into the woods. And 'trail' it was, a winding, steep sort of a cowpath, up and down, over rocks coated with moss and lichen, between trees and cutbanks. It would make an elegant winter ski trail. We came at last to the lake, and were ill impressed with the outlook, so left. We did stop in one spot to explore, and saw some quite attractive plants, which I have determined were pink corydalis, the first we had seen.

Back on the highway, intact, we soon saw a broad, smooth road, with signs, leading to Prelude Lake. We, of course, had mistakenly driven a walking trail--but it was fun, anyway.

Along the way, we saw a plot of white fireweeds, obviously rare, as they were the only ones we saw, among millions of pink ones.

Along with many other explorers, we parked at the turn-out and walked in to the famous Cameron Falls. Climbing over huge rocks, up slopes and down, around trees, over tangled roots we went, with little white-painted footprints on the rock, to guide our way. Mel went on ahead, but Aline waited for me, as I huffed along, with a dozen or more groups ahead and behind us, all heading for the distant thunder of the falls. It could have been a mile, perhaps less, when we came out onto a promontory, overlooking these very beautiful falls, where we rested a time, and just enjoyed.

This entire area seems to be a mass of extended lakes, rambling rivers and massive rocks, all wild and wonderful, garnished with spruce and birch, moss, lichens and wildflowers, all begging to be explored again and again. It is an area very hard on films, as one can never get quite enough pictures.

Mel went scrambling over the rough going to get a first-hand view of the tumbling water, while Aline and I went part way, and used the cameras. Sated, we at last started back over the windy trail. We met folks of all ages, some carrying babies, many with dogs to bark at us.

Some miles further on, we came to the Cameron Bridge, where we stopped for a time. Just beyond the bridge are two falls, or rapids--as they are not very deep--very attractive, as the river curves and throws the water in a giant tumbling, grumbling torrent, yet below the turmoil, we saw young fellows doing some snorkling. These more gentle falls invited us to walk right out into their midst, to feel the spray and be a part of the turbulent wilderness.

This road goes on for a few more miles--10 or 20--but we opted to return to Yellowknife, for more exploring there. A short stop at Pontoon Lake, where we walked about, collected a few rock samples, heavily loaded with mica (fool's gold?), admired the flora, and the view, and again deplored the crop of tin cans and bottles seen discarded wherever man has passed. Next week--the Art Gallery, and road home.

Canadian Jamboree '89

By Charlene Nixon

This summer, three of our Scouts, Dean Berg, Darren Pilisko and David McNamara, along with three Scouts from Bonnyville and two from Marwayne, under the leadership of Bonnyville Scouter Jerry Letal, spent 10 days at the Canadian Jamboree.

CJ was held at Fort Amherst, outside of Charlottetown, PEI. With all 10,000 Scouts, leaders and volunteers on site, they held the distinction of being the second largest populated area, bettered only by Charlottetown.

The Jamboree was honored with such visitors as Prince Andrew and the Duchess of York, an air show from the Snowbirds and a speech from the Commander of the Snowbirds. Scouts from France, England, the US and Australia were also in attendance.

The Scouts toured Charlottetown, saw the Province House where our Confederation was drawn up, and a lobster market. They also toured the bridge and map room of an oceanographic ship and the lifesize model of the space ship Columbia, and canoed on salt water.

Our Scouts were presented with our town flag, which they in turn presented to our Chief Executive of Boy Scouts of Canada.

CJ was an experience our Scouts will never forget. Our association, our supporters, indeed the whole

Many Lakes district can be proud of the contribution we made to this great event.

We now look forward to Alberta Jamboree at Camp Woods in '91, and our next CJ in '93 at Kananaskis.

Flag Goes To Jamboree

Scouts Dean Berg, David McNamara and Darren Pilisko proudly present the Elk Point town flag to the Chief Executive of Boy Scouts of Canada at Canadian Jamboree '89 in Fort Amherst, Nova Scotia.

Letter to the Editor

Proud to call Elk Point home

Dear Editor,

I read in the July 12 issue of the Review that our young citizens are being honored for their part in making this community what it is. I do not dispute the honor bestowed on them, but I do feel that each one of us in and from Elk Point contributes to the soul of this small community.

As I leave for Victoria to attend the School of Social Work I wish to express my regards to all of you. When I look back at all the people who have left Elk Point and those who have stayed, it gives me great comfort to know we have all made a difference. Those who have gone miles away to pursue their dreams, such as Mike Palamarek and John Soldan, have brought this town and its citizens a great sense of pride. Those who have stayed behind have followed in the footsteps of their parents, grandparents and even great-grandparents, these are the people who keep building up the foundations of this community so others can have fond memories when they leave.

Having lived here all my life, I too have seen the changes in the past fifteen years. I do not dispute that the loss of the theatre meant the loss of an activity for our youth, however, speaking from a teenager's point of view, we always would rather go to St. Paul as there were more people there to be companions with.

The oil industry has indeed changed Elk Point. It provided my father with employment, so I could attend one of the finest universities in the country for my degree. It also provided me with a best friend and several others besides. The new wealth allowed our town to build a new library which now holds adequate resource material for university papers. It has provided husbands for our children ... need I go on?

When asked in Victoria what Elk Point is like I cannot reply that it is a gossip-centre, or that it is too quiet or boring, which are characteristics of all small towns. Rather, it is full of good memories and bad, it is the grass roots of each of our lives. It is a place where you are ridiculed if you do wrong, given a pat on your back if you do right. It is a town where some expend all their energies on hating, and others on loving. It is never really the same and yet never really different. It's just HOME.

Finally, a note to you, Mr. Bugej, although I appreciate your opinion, someone like myself who finds it so hard to leave, cannot relate to yourself, someone who finds it so hard to stay.

See you all at Christmas.

TURNING OPPORTUNITY INTO ENTERPRISE

OPPORTUNITY

In the early 1980s, owner Rick Brink got his start in the novelty production and distribution business by working out of a briefcase. In just a few years, product demand increased substantially.

CHALLENGE

The business grew rapidly and required a larger, more convenient space to manufacture new products and store increased inventory.

SOLUTION

Brink went to AOC for financing of both a new manufacturing and warehouse facility and the larger inventory required. The company imports such novelties as All and Nintendo paper products, wedding and party novelties for distribution across North America. Perola doubled its gross sales this year and employs 20 people, ten of them sales representatives working across Canada.

ON JANUARY 1, 1991, CANADA'S
FEDERAL SALES TAX SYSTEM WILL CHANGE.

PLEASE SAVE THIS NOTICE.

IT EXPLAINS THE CHANGES AND
THE REASONS FOR THEM.

IT IS A MAJOR PART OF THE ONGOING PROGRAM TO REDUCE THE DEFICIT.

A new Goods and Services Tax (GST) will replace the existing Federal Sales Tax. It will be charged at a uniform rate of 9 per cent on the vast majority of goods and services consumed in Canada. The existing federal sales tax rate is generally 13½% at the manufacturer's level.

The present federal sales tax system has been pushed beyond its limits and can no longer sustain the demands placed upon it. The structural weaknesses of the system have given some corporations the opportunity to reduce the amount of tax they would otherwise pay. For a tax system with 75,000 taxpaying corporations, there are 22,000 special arrangements and administrative interpretations required to keep the system in operation.

The present federal sales tax system is an increasingly unpredictable and unreliable source of revenue for the federal government. It must be replaced.

Our enormous debt has put pressure on the government's ability to meet other priorities. Canadians know the risks of not acting to bring the debt under control. The size of the debt has left us exposed to increases in interest rates, and vulnerable to international economic shocks. The reliability and stability of our sources of revenue are all the more important in such an environment. The new federal sales tax will secure year by year reductions in the deficit, while ensuring we can continue to provide Canadians with a standard of services that is among the best in the world.

IT WILL STRENGTHEN OUR INTERNATIONAL COMPETITIVENESS AND CREATE JOBS IN CANADA.

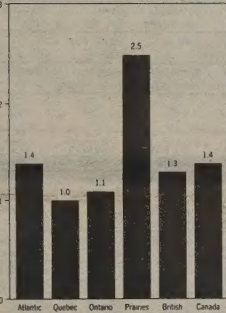

Our current federal sales tax favours imports over Canadian made goods. We are the only country in the industrialized world that is putting itself at such a disadvantage. The existing system also makes Canada's exporters less competitive in the world economy. Our present federal sales tax makes our annual economic output about $9 billion lower than it would be with the new GST in place.

Under the GST, we will be able to completely remove tax from our exports and make Canadian products more competitive abroad. And in Canada, Canadian-made products will be able to compete more effectively with imports.

The benefits to the Canadian economy from sales tax reform will extend across all regions and sectors of the economy. The Atlantic and Prairie regions for example, will benefit significantly because their economies are resource-based and export-oriented - two sectors that will benefit the most from sales tax reform.

The GST will lower the cost of the machines, supplies and equipment companies have to buy to produce their products. This will lead to higher levels of investment and expand our output. Higher output will lead to more jobs.

Long-Run Regional Output Gains From Sales Tax Reform

IT WILL HELP LOW INCOME CANADIANS.

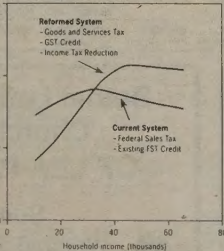

Once the GST is in place, families earning less than $30,000 a year will be better off. This will be achieved through a combination of income tax changes. First, low income Canadians will receive the new GST Credit. Second, the middle personal income tax rate will be reduced from 26 per cent to 25 per cent.

The GST Credit will be paid every three months and in advance of expenses. Eligible Canadian households will receive their first credit cheque in December 1990, before the January 1, 1991 GST start-up date. About 9 million Canadians will receive Credit cheques. The GST Credit will be calculated on the basis of income tax returns. Every income tax return will contain a one-page form showing Canadians how to apply for the GST Credit.

The amount of the Credit will depend on family size and income. The basic adult credit will be $275. Most single adults will be able to get an additional credit of up to $140, for a total of $415. The child credit will be $100. Single parents will receive an adult Credit of $275 for one of their children. Canadian households with incomes up to about $25,000 annually will be entitled to the full Credit.

A family of two adults and two children, eligible for the full Credit, will for example receive cheques of $187.50, four times over the course of the year, for a total of $750.

Fairer System Families with Children

IT WILL ELIMINATE HIDDEN TAXES.

Right now, everywhere in this country every time Canadians buy a good or service made in Canada, they are paying federal sales tax. For example, a substantial amount of sales tax is presently buried in house prices. Under the existing system, it is clearly impossible for Canadians to know how much federal sales tax they are paying. There are four different rates on a variety of different products and the tax is buried throughout the production process.

It will be clear to Canadians when they are paying the 9 per cent GST. The broad base of the GST means it will apply to almost everything. The few exceptions will be widely known.

Some retailers in Canada will have cash registers that are capable of showing the GST separately at the check-out counter, while other retailers will not. The federal government will provide an incentive to retailers to assist them in acquiring the cash registers to show the GST separately.

In all cases, the federal government will provide retailers with signs for their stores that clearly indicate that the 9 per cent GST is being applied.

PROPOSED CHANGES.

1. For consumers, the GST will be similar to a retail sales tax, at the rate of 9 per cent on the retail price of goods and services. The GST will replace the existing federal sales tax, which is hidden at the manufacturer's level.
2. The GST will apply to virtually all goods and services sold in Canada; however, Canadians will not be charged tax when they buy the following GOODS: basic groceries; prescription drugs; medical appliances such as eye-glasses and wheel chairs; residential rents and existing houses.
3. Canadians will not be charged tax when they buy the following SERVICES: loans, mortgages, securities and insurance policies; health and dental care; most education services; daycare services; legal aid; and municipal transit and passenger ferry services.
4. Newly constructed houses will be taxed, however, most new home buyers will not see a significant increase in the price of a new house resulting from the GST, because there will be a $900 million GST housing rebate. In many parts of the country price increases will be less than half a per cent. Indeed, many communities should see lower prices as a result of the GST rebate. The main exception will be Toronto, where extraordinarily high land prices may cause prices of new housing to increase by about 1½%.
5. Because the present federal sales tax will be removed, prices will not automatically rise by 9 per cent when the GST is introduced. The prices of some things will be lower, and others higher. The prices of many big-ticket items for example, that are taxed at 13.5 per cent under the present system, will be lower once the 9 per cent GST is in place. The price of other items that are not taxed under the present system will increase.

Finally, well before the GST is up and running, the government will be telling Canadians about the GST and informing them about the kinds of price changes they can expect for key goods and services when the GST replaces the existing federal sales tax.

For instance, here are a few examples of what consumers might expect:

ITEM	PRE-TAX REFORM($)	POST-TAX REFORM($)
Air Conditioner	780.00	770.00
Car	15,000.00	14,700.00
Snow Tires	200.00	203.00
Hotel Accommodation	90.00	95.00

EWONIAK, Dorothy

In loving memory of our beloved wife, mother and grandmother, Dorothy Ewoniak, who passed away August 23rd, 1988.

God saw you getting tired,
And a cure was not to be,
So he wrapped you in His loving arms,
And whispered, "Come With Me".
You suffered much in silence,
Your spirit did not mend,
You faced your pain with courage,
Until the very end,
You tried so hard to stay with us,
Your fight was all in vain.
God took you to His loving home,
And freed you from all pain.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by loving husband, children and grandchildren.

What's news at the library?

The Summer Reading Program came to an end for another year, last week. Parties were held and prizes presented. The Elk Point Library Board and staff would like to thank Daphne Schnurer, Summer Program Coordinator, and Tina Bjorkman, her assistant, for a job well done. The Library Board and Staff would also like to thank the Fun In The Sun Program for their cooperation and help. It was a great summer.

Thursday, August 31 will be our last summer kids' matinee at 2:00 p.m. in the library.

The Elk Point Public Library is sponsoring the Magicadabra Show starring Murray Hatfield and Co.. This is western Canada's most incredible stage show. The show will be held Friday, September 15 at 7:00 p.m. in the F. G. Miller High School. The show may be too advanced for children 5 years and under. Tickets are available at the Public Library and at Dave's Pizza.

The Library Board and staff would like to thank the 1979-80 Class Reunion Committee for the donation of $70 toward our Cassette Fund. This was the net proceeds from their reunion that was held on August 12 and 13.

NEW BOOKS

Stress For Success by Peter Hanson—this book focuses on the major problems and pressures of today's workplace, and explains how to deal with its most stressful changes.

Past Worlds by Hammond Incorporated—the atlas of archaeology: understanding the past human origins, the agricultural revolution, the emergence of civilization and empires of the old world, the new world and toward the modern world. This is a large format, well illustrated reference book.

The library has recently purchased a large number of books by Alberta authors and/or published in Alberta.

This purchase was made possible by a matching grant from the Alberta Foundation for the Literary Arts. These are on display in the library. Some of the titles are: "Great Canadian Animal Stories" by Muriel Whitaker, "The Adventure of Nature Photography" by Tim Fitzharris, "Spearhead to Victory" by Daniel Dancocks, "A Bird-Finding Guide to Canada" by J.C. Finlay, "The Absolute Beginner's Cookbook" by Jack Eddy, "Canada's Oil and American Empire" by Ed Shaffer, "Canada: A History in Photographs" by Roger Hall, "The Best of the Group of Seven" by Joan Murray, "Parks in Alberta" by Joy Finlay, "The Book of Canadians" by Carlotta Hacker, "The Windmill Turning" by Victor Friesen, and "Discovery of the North" by Daniel Francis.

Once again here are some more names of videos we have on hand for our library patrons, these are: "Sign-Me-A-Story", "Creating Your Own Wardrobe", "Dorf on Golf", "Sewing Basic" and "Shari Lewis: 101 Things For Kids To Do".

Crop report

Showers have put an end to swathing in much of the Elk Point area this week, with some fear that swathed grain could start to sprout if rainfall continues. Swathing is generally well underway, with a small amount of barley and canola combined already. No frost has yet been reported.

FCSS Kids Club

By Carmen Gulayec
Summer's almost at its end and so is Kids' Club '89!
We have had many new experiences, everything from making perogies on Ukrainian Day to balancing eggs for our Mini-Olympics. Watching the smiles on their faces when they made their first perogy or the excitement shown when they were handed a red ribbon for crossing the finish line first are memories I'll take with me always. Each and every one of the kids in Kids' Club is unique and very special.
I would like to thank the FCSS Board members for giving me the opportunity to experience these good feelings. I would like to thank Lynn Proskiw for her guidance, help and many suggestions. I would also like to thank the parents for being thoughtful and considerate, but most of all I would like to thank the kids for making each of my days go by so much faster. See you next summer!

Summer Play wind-up 1989

The Club 3/4 and Fun in the Sun groups were very busy all summer making crafts, playing games, attending the Library Reading Programs and matinee as well as being involved with the six-day AADAC Drama Fun Program which was held in Elk Point.

Fun in the Sun participants were able to go on field-trips to the Silver Spurs Wildlife Ranch and to the St. Paul Aquatic Centre. Both groups of children, Club 3/4 and Fun in the Sun, were involved in special activity days. For example, children of Fun in the Sun participated in a mini-olympics along with the F.C.S.S. Kid's Club, and Club 3/4 participants enjoyed the games at a Penny Carnival.

The Club 3/4 children went to the Library for the end of the year party since plans to go to Whitney Lake were cancelled due to the cool weather. At the Library, the children were involved in various games and races. Children enrolled in Fun in the Sun were able to go to Markstad Park for a wiener roast and to play games.

Throughout the summer, parents were asked to provide a nutritious snack a few times each. Thank you for doing this so willingly.

We'd also like to thank all those who attended the Parents Night/Open House on August 23, 1989. And thanks, kids, for working so hard on your crafts so that the displays could look exceptionally nice.

The children of Club 3/4 and Fun in the Sun were a great bunch of kids and it was a pleasure to work with them over the summer. Keep up the good work, kids!
